ASSIGNMENT LOCATIONS

What are the two methods that most instructors place Assignments within their course?

Can you setup an assignment to do the following? Use a method to indicate the YES or NO.

YES or NO: Use a Rubric to grade.

YES or NO: Make submissions anonymous until certain criteria is met.

YES or NO: Choose to have all individuals, groups, or students with last names that begin with a specific letter submit certain assignments.

YES or NO: Have an Assignment be a portfolio submission.

YES or NO: Check submissions for plagiarism.

YES or NO: Have Blackboard Learn grade assignments automatically and give a grade.

Activity: Assignment Location Assessment

If you are using the Assignment Tool in your course, are you providing students with clear instructions on where to locate the files?

1. List where you specifically tell students how to find the assignment:
2. Is there a section in your syllabus that outlines where to find assignments or how to turn them in?
3. Have students ever reported that the assignment information or location was unclear?
4. How will you update your assignment locations? What will be the communication plan to provide students with the instructions?

Bonus Activity: Review your Assignment instructions and grading method. Would it make sense to create and grade with a Rubric?

Rubrics

In your own words, what are the benefits of using Rubrics to grade Assignments in Blackboard Learn?

There are five types of Rubrics that can be created. What are they?

Describe how Criteria and Levels of Achievement relate to Rubrics:

Overview: Rubrics

Activity: Assignment Rubric

In this activity, you will practice creating a Rubric. If you have already identify an assignment that you would like to create a rubric for, please navigate to that course assignment. If you just want to practice, use your practice course to create the rubric.

1. Navigate to an Assignment. If you do not have an Assignment to work with, create one.
2. From the Grading section, click Add Rubric in the Associated Rubrics area. Then click Create New Rubric.
3. Create your rubric by providing a name, description, and editing the rubric detail. When ready, click Submit.
4. The Rubric will now be listed and you can modify the visibility for students.

Delegated Grading

In your own words, define Delegated Grading:

In the image to the right, you'll see a blank Delegated Grading setting form. Modify the settings you would have to make to set it up as a Blind Parallel (the lead instructor will use two graders to grade all the assignment submissions independently of each other). Check the option appropriate and choose one of the options for Submission to Grade: All Submissions, Random Set, Groups, or None.

Grading Options

☐ Enable Anonymous Grading
 ☐ Enable Delegated Grading

Activity: Delegated Grading

Does delegated grading have a place in your course delivery? There are a number of ways that it can be used, which is why we created a help page with common samples.

For this activity, you will be identifying which assignments have the potential to use delegated grading.

1. Visit Delegated Grading Examples and review all the samples. Are there any that fit your needs? List them here:

https://help.blackboard.com/en-us/Learn/9.1\_2014\_04/Instructor/100\_Assignments/050\_Grade\_Assignments/030\_Best\_Practice\_Delegated\_Grading\_Examples

2. List the course names that match the samples you identified above:

3. Setup the assignment in your course using the settings identified in the samples.

Anonymous Grading

List at least three benefits to Anonymous Grading:

True or False: The only thing you need to do is Enable Anonymous Grading to use this feature.

Once an anonymous assignment is submitted, how will an instructor know?

When will the grades be visible in the Grade Center?

The image below is a screen shot from a student's view of My Grades. Was this assignment graded anonymously? How do you know?

Activity: Anonymous Grading

With the addition of anonymous grading, does it have a place in your course delivery? How will it change the way you receive assignments?

For this activity, you will be identifying which assignments have the potential to use delegated grading.

1. List all the assignments that you currently use that might benefit from using anonymous grading:
2. List the course names that match the samples you identified above:
3. Choose one assignment to use as your first anonymous assignment. Modify the settings of the assignment so that the submission is anonymous.
4. Outline your communication plan to let students understand how anonymous grading works:

Inline Grading

In your own words, define Inline grading:

What are the supported document types viewable in the grading screen?

Identify the areas marked in the image below.

The screenshot displays the Blackboard Grade Assignment interface for a document titled "Planet Paper". The interface is divided into several sections:

- Header: "Grade Assignment: Planet Paper" with options to "Jump to..." and "Hide User Names".
- Student Information: "3 of 7" and "Linda Herrera (Attempt 1 of 1)".
- Assignment Instructions: A dropdown menu and a "Comment" button.
- Document Viewer: A text document with a red line indicating a comment. The text includes: "planet from the Sun, is named after the Roman A terrestrial planet, it is sometimes called Earth's is the two are very similar in size and bulk though all planets' orbits are elliptical, Venus's est to circular, with an eccentricity of less than 1%." and "is closer to the Sun than the Earth, it always ly the same direction from Earth as the Sun (the ion is 47.8°), so on Earth it can usually only be s before sunrise or a few hours after sunset. at its brightest, Venus may be seen during g it one of only two heavenly bodies that sun-be- id night (the other being the Moon). It is red to as the 'Morning Star' or the 'Evening Star,' sible in dark skies it is by far the brightest star-like".
- Comments: Three yellow comment boxes on the right side of the document viewer:
  - "Cathy Chu: Need a strong intro" (marked with a blue circle 'A' in the image).
  - "Cathy Chu: eliminate passive language" (marked with a blue circle 'D' in the image).
  - "Cathy Chu: You are going to have fun adding images to this presentation." (marked with a blue circle 'I' in the image).
- Assignment Details: A sidebar on the right showing:
  - GRADE: "Last Graded Attempt" with a grade of "E" and a score of "/100".
  - Attempt: "10/21/13 11:52 AM" with a score of "85/100".
  - FEEDBACK - SHOWN TO LEARNER: A message: "You have a solid first pass. I pointed out one instance of passive voice, but want you to correct that throughout. Work on adding a great attention-getter to the beginning. I look forward to the next draft!" (marked with a blue circle 'F' in the image).
  - Character count: "206".
  - Buttons: "Add Notes" (marked with a blue circle 'H' in the image), "Cancel", "Save Draft", and "Submit".
  - SUBMISSION: A section showing the document "planet_durand.doc" (marked with a blue circle 'I' in the image).

SafeAssign

---

In your own words, define SafeAssign within Blackboard Learn:

List three benefits of using SafeAssign:

True or False: SafeAssign is automatically enabled for all new assignments created. There is nothing an instructor has to do to enable it.

There are three sections of the report. Briefly describe each section:
